The University Interscholastic League ...

Purpose

The purpose of the UIL is to organize and properly supervise contests that prepare students for later success in life. It aims to provide healthy, character building, educational activities carried out under rules providing for good sportsmanship and fair play for all participants.

Sensible organized competition under proper controls has demonstrated its value and has furnished inspiration to talented students for many years. "The UIL has always stood firm in the belief that student activity participants are the best resource our country has to offer," said UIL Director Dr. Bill Farney. "By providing an opportunity for Texas students to showcase their talents and pursue their dreams, the UIL plays an important role in creating the productive citizens of tomorrow." The UIL does not provide a contest for every student, but does fill the need for those with the physical and intellectual capacity to excel in activities beyond the classroom. The UIL has the active support of school administrators, teachers, and citizens across Texas.

Services

The UIL is a non-profit service organization that provides a wide variety of activities and programs. The UIL:

- Provides students with educational experiences through competition.
- Promotes good sportsmanship and cooperation among member schools.
- Publishes a bi-monthly newspaper called The Leaguer, mailed to all member schools, UIL adjudicators and officials, and interested Texas news media.
- Works closely with associations to provide better officiating and adjudication for UIL contests.
- Sponsors regional conferences and clinics for athletic, music, drama, student press, and academic contests.
- Provides materials to member schools for use in UIL activities.
- Seeks to safeguard the health and welfare of students by requiring physical examinations for participation in athletics.
- Sponsors district, regional, and state tournaments or meets in athletic, music, drama, journalism, and academic contests.
- Provides drama teachers with an extensive Drama Loan Library of more than 26,000 plays.
- Sponsors the Interscholastic League Press Conference, an organization dedicated to the development of a responsible, mature, student press.
- Administers the Texas Interscholastic League Foundation, a scholarship program for academic state competitors.
- Sponsors the UIL – Southwestern Bell Sponsor Excellence Award, honoring outstanding UIL program sponsors, coaches and directors.

History

The University Interscholastic League was created by The University of Texas at Austin to provide leadership and guidance to public school debate and athletic teachers. In 1909, with the approval of the Board of Regents, Dr. S.E. Mezes, president of the University of Texas, organized and formed the Extension Bureau. He also appointed Professor Charles Ramsdell to investigate the need for a high school athletic organization. After talking with public school officials, Professor Ramsdell suggested organizing an Interscholastic Athletic Association. The proposal was approved and the UIL's two parent organizations - the Debate League of Texas and the Interscholastic Athletic Association - became operational.

In 1913, the Debate League and Athletic Association merged to form the University Interscholastic League, which was centered in the Bureau of Public School Services, then a part of The University of Texas Extension Division. Today, the UIL operates under the jurisdiction of the Vice-President for Administration at the University of Texas at Austin.

The UIL has grown into the largest interschool organization of its kind in the world. The voluntary membership, non-profit organization exists to provide educational extracurricular academic, athletic, and fine arts contests. The initials "UIL" have come to represent quality educational competition administered by school people on an amateur and equitable basis.

Important dates in UIL history ...

1904 - Idea for state high school association born.

1910 - Debate League of Texas founded.

1911 - University of Texas Interscholastic Athletic Association founded; First Debate State Meet (May 5-6); First Debate champion (El Paso); First boys Track & Field champion (Beaumont).

1912 - First state meet of the Texas Interscholastic Athletic Association; First boys Declamation champion (Belton).

1913 - Debate League merged with Athletic Association to form University Interscholastic League.

1914 - UIL opened competition to girls (county athletic & declamation events); High school participation limited to four years.

Making a world of difference ...

The largest

One out of every two high school seniors participates in a UIL contest prior to graduation.

Each year, almost two million students in grades two through twelve participate in one or more of the 36 literary and academic, five major music, and twelve athletic contest areas. Not only is the UIL the oldest state high school association of its kind in the world, it currently serves a larger geographic area, schedules a greater variety of contests, holds more meets, and enjoys a greater school membership than any similar organization in existence.

Under UIL direction, Texas fields more high school baseball, football, volleyball, basketball, and track teams than any other state.

The UIL also conducts the largest competitive drama program in the world and sponsors the Interscholastic League Press Conference, the nation's largest state high school journalism association.

Best of all, participation in extracurricular activities is an educational bargain. In virtually every case, UIL activities account for less than one percent of each member school's budget. This includes equipment, supplies, transportation, coaches salaries and a portion of the utility bills. Fifty percent of the students at one percent of the budget! It is the best bargain in public education today.

The finest

The UIL's Prescribed Music List is used by more than 30 states as well as seven foreign nations.

In addition, its calculator applications and number sense contests have been studied and emulated worldwide, just as virtually every UIL contest has been used as the standard by which excellence is judged. While many states provide only athletic competition, the UIL offers the most comprehensive literary and academic program in the nation. Contests range from current issues and events to poetry interpretation, from headline writing to number sense. Each year, outside groups ask the UIL to sponsor their contests, so they may take advantage of UIL structure and guidance.

Because the UIL has maintained a close relationship with The University of Texas at Austin and other host colleges and universities, public schools have enjoyed the expertise of many of the nation's finest educators, who serve as contest directors and judges. Also, public schools have access to onstanding classroom and athletic facilities at nominal costs.

Finally, the UIL developed and administers the Texas Interscholastic League Foundation. Since its inception in 1954, TILF has awarded more than $15 million in college scholarships to over 13,000 UIL State academic meet participants. The TILF is a program unique to Texas and the UIL. See page five for a list of donors.

The strongest

Rules are made by school people who best understand the nature of educational competition.

Contests could not exist without rules. UIL rules are adopted and altered by public school administrators, whose responsibility is to the overall educational program of the local school district rather than individual contests. The superintendent ensures that contests remain strictly amateur and educational.

The purpose of UIL contests is to provide healthful, character-building experiences that teach lessons in sportsmanship, teamwork and individual responsibility. Participation is its own reward. Students learn humility in victory, grace in defeat.

Administrators actively seek input from coaches, teachers, contest sponsors, educational association officials, school board members, parents and the public before voting in a democratic manner for the rules by which all students compete. Once adopted, rules are monitored closely by administrators. School people are more aware of societal changes than the average person because they deal with students on a daily basis - and no group more accurately reflects changes in society than do teenagers.

The strength of the UIL is its commitment to grass roots control; by school officials, whose sole concern is the development of the total student. The educational competitions and activities facilitated by the UIL are a crucial part of that development.

Academics

The University Interscholastic League offers the most comprehensive academic competitive program in the nation. The academic program offers more areas of competition than any other UIL Division, with 36 individual activities. More than a half million students participate in UIL academic contests yearly.

These activities complement schools' academic curriculum. They are designed to motivate students as they acquire knowledge, to challenge students to confront important issues, and to provide students with opportunities to demonstrate mastery of specific skills. They are offered at the elementary, junior high and high school level. Many primary schools use their activities as accelerated programs for high achievers.

The UIL provides study packets for each activity, handbooks developed by experts in respective fields, instructional videotapes and conferences which offer enrichment and instruction. The journey to state competition introduces contestants to the campuses of some 18 colleges and universities statewide through district and regional contests.

The UIL's One-Act Play competition is the largest play production contest or play festival in the world. This activity is supported by over 200 college and university faculty serving as critic judges, 50 colleges and universities providing site facilities and 150 school administrators providing facilities and serving as contest managers. The One-Act Play competition is an integral component of the educational theatre curriculum, and is considered by historians to be the foundation of the educational and community theatre programs in Texas.

Also under the auspices of the UIL is the Interscholastic League Press Conference, an association of junior high and high school newspaper and yearbook staffs. One of the largest state high school press associations, ILPC coordinates summer workshops, a spring convention and numerous special-interest seminars.

Athletics

The UIL Athletic Division is based on the premise that students are students first, and athletic participation is a privilege. In addition to learning teamwork and group responsibility, these students obtain skills essential for strong citizenship and leadership. Those students participating in athletics tend to make better grades than students who are not participating in any other school activity.

This Division is the largest within the UIL in terms of participation. Its 22 activities include over a million participants at the junior high and high school levels in the state.

The Athletic Division also draws the majority of the UIL's media coverage. Football is currently broadcast over network television in all 19 Texas media markets, as well as a delayed broadcast on Fox Sports Net Southwest. Baseball is very likely to follow. These activities are also carried on statewide radio, along with girls' basketball, volleyball, soccer, and track & field. The remaining athletic activities often receive radio coverage at the local level. The UIL State football and basketball championships are broadcast live on Fox Sports Net Southwest and replayed later throughout the year.

Music

The UIL Music Division is the envy of the nation. Its purpose is to provide statewide music competitions that enhance the many roles music plays in our society. It encompasses 10 activities and includes half a million participants in junior high and high school. Because of the department's first class reputation, music activities receive media coverage statewide.

The UIL's Music competitions are unique among League activities, inasmuch as they do not determine a state champion in most contests. Student musicians who participate in these contests are critiqued and rated against an accepted set of performance standards, rather than in "head to head" competition. Adjudication is performed by professional musicians and music educators who are recognized throughout the nation for their musical expertise.

The Music Division also produces and distributes The Prescribed Music List. This document, which specifies the graded repertoire used for all music contests in Texas, is developed and continuously refined by the UIL. It is also used by more than 30 other states and seven foreign nations as a guide for music competition.

$15.5 million

■ That's how much the Texas Interscholastic League Foundation has given since 1954 to over 13,000 Texas high school students who have competed in the UIL's state academic meet. This year alone, the TILF is awarding $1,320,000 in scholarships to 693 students.

■ The UIL administration, the UIL member schools' administrators, coaches, sponsors, directors and especially the students and their parents say THANK YOU to all TILF donors. The TILF has over $5 MILLION in endowed funds and receives direct scholarship grants each year for more than $800,000 from foundations throughout the state. These grants have proven decisive in many student's educational careers. Many students would not or could not have attended the college or university of their choice without the financial assistance TILF provides.

The University Interscholastic League is proud to recognize 15 of the top UIL sponsors in Texas as the 2001 UIL-Southwestern Bell Sponsor Excellence Award winners.

The winners were selected by a panel of judges in the areas of music, athletics, and academics from nominations submitted by school principals and superintendents from across the state.

The award, now in its eleventh year, was created to identify and recognize outstanding sponsors who enable students to develop and refine their extracurricular talents to the highest degree possible within the educational system.

"The benefits of interscholastic competition and student performance are only possible through the hard work and dedication of sponsors, coaches, and directors like these," said UIL Director Dr. Bill Farney. "On behalf of the UIL, I commend these outstanding educators."

Each winner will receive $1,000 and a symbolic keepsake from Southwestern Bell in recognition of their outstanding achievements in the pursuit of educational excellence through interscholastic competition. Southwestern Bell joins the UIL in its efforts to strengthen and promote the role of extracurricular activities in Texas. The quality of the Sponsor Excellence Award, along with all other UIL programs is enhanced through the continued support of Southwestern Bell.

•Linda Alderson, Boling High School

Alderson has sponsored UIL speech events for fourteen years, the last four at Boling High School. In addition to being a UIL sponsor, she is also UIL Coordinator. Within the last three years, she began a debate program at Boling High School that has produced regional and state qualifiers the last two years. Alderson directs the district CX and Lincoln-Douglas debate meets for other districts, is a member of the regional advisory committee, and is active in the Texas Speech Communication Association. Under her guidance, Boling High School won the district academic meet in 2001.

"What we teach as coaches, whether in the classroom, at the speech tournament, on the football field, or while preparing for band contests is much more valuable than winning that trophy that later fills our closets and gathers dust," said Alderson. "Competition affords students the opportunities to take what we teach in the classroom and apply it in a real world setting."

•Judy Childress, Fort Bend Dulles High School

Childress has been a choir teacher at Dulles High School for the past seventeen years. In that time, she has had sixteen All-State Choir members, and approximately 300 All-District and All-Region choir members. She is a four-time Dulles High School Teacher of the Year, and has been named Fort Bend ISD Teacher of the Year. She sponsored the Dulles High School Varsity Singers when they performed at Carnegie Hall in 1995, and has made the Dulles High School choir the most requested choral group in Fort Bend County.

"Competition drives us to maximize our abilities," said Childress. "We must have a strong desire for each child to maximize his or her abilities. When our faculty has consistently done that, we must consider ourselves winners."

•Karen Collins Stinson, Conroe Oak Ridge High School

Collins Stinson has coached UIL journalism events for sixteen years, in addition to coaching UIL Spelling & Vocabulary, Current Issues & Events, and speaking events. She has coached state winners or finalists in six events, and last year coached students to regional competitions in nine events. She coordinates UIL academic teams at Oak Ridge High School and encourages all students to join in UIL.

"We believe we can improve students' attitudes toward school by raising academic achievement in a warm, fun environment. We give kids a place to belong, therefore encouraging better attendance and classroom performance," Collins Stinson said. "Coaches foster positive self-images of students who might otherwise be left in the crowd."

•Carlota Dwyer, San Antonio Clark High School

Dwyer has been a UIL Literary Criticism sponsor for the last 13 years, and the Current Issues & Events sponsor and Clark High School Academic Coordinator for the last four. She organizes and guides various UIL academic students, teachers, and sponsors in a variety of activities throughout the academic year. She has coached three state champion Literary Criticism teams since 1997, and has coached the individual Literary Criticism state champion every year since 1996. Additionally, her Current Issues & Events teams have been district champions for the past two years.

"UIL academic competition fulfills the basic mission of education by developing and fulfilling the heightened powers and skills prompted by heated competition with one's peers," said Dwyer. "Teaching and learning are intimately connected in my mind and represent the core of my belief in the ideal and vital role of public education in America."

•Vickie Griffin, Hurst Bell High School

Griffin has been head volleyball coach at L.D. Bell High School for 25 years, and has served as Athletic Coordinator the past four. She is a nine time District Coach of the Year, and earned her 500th career win as head coach this fall. Her teams have won 13 district championships and have made 15 playoff appearances, including one to the regional finals.

"I try to impress upon my athletes that success does not come from doing only what is required. That which is over and above the requirement measures true success," said Griffin. "One of the greatest thrills in my life is working with young people, watching them improve, and knowing I make a difference in their life."

•Kristi Hodgkiss, Paris North Lamar High School

Hodgkiss has sponsored UIL speaking events for nine years and debate for one year. She coached students all the way to state in only her second year as a speech coach, and since then has coached 23 regional and 10 state competitors. In eight years, she has coached two state speech champions. She has served on the regional advisory committee for speech and debate, and has been invited to judge at the UIL Academic State Meet.

"Competition can provide students with opportunities to develop discipline and responsibility, learn poise, self-control, and confidence, and learn the importance of preparation, the need for fair play and ethics, and the importance of coping with setbacks," said Hodgkiss. "In life, not everyone can be first in everything they do; competition can prepare students to be good winners as well as good losers, and to control their reactions in either case."

Important dates in UIL history ...

1984 - First Team Tennis champions (Klein - 5A, San Antonio Alamo Heights - 4A); First State Marching Band champions (Asherton - 1A, Dripping Springs - 2A, Waco Robinson - 3A, Georgetown - 4A, SA MacArthur - 5A); 75th anniversary of the UIL.

1991 - First Academic Sweepstakes champions (Clear Lake - 5A, Gregory-Portland - 4A, Vernon - 3A, Lytle - 2A, San Isidro - 1A).

1993 - First Softball champion (Pasadena Dobie).

1998 - Completion of new UIL office building in Austin.

1999 - First Wrestling champions (boys-Dallas Highland Park; Girls-Arlington Houston)

•J.D. Janda, Katy Taylor High School

Janda has been a band director for 21 years, the last twelve at Taylor High School. In each of the last five years, at least two of Taylor High School's concert bands have received the Sweepstakes Award in both concert and sight reading competitions. Under his direction, over 1300 Taylor High School students have received individual first division medals at solo & ensemble competitions. In 2000, the Taylor High School music department received the Texas State Solo & Ensemble Contest 5A Sweepstakes Award, which is awarded to the school with the greatest number of successful music students among all 5A schools. He is currently the Chair of the Fine Arts Department, and is coordinating the grand opening of Taylor High School's new Performing Arts Center.

"What we do every minute of every day in preparation for a competition is always more important than the competition itself," said Janda. "I have always believed that the individual needs of each of my students are vastly more important than the overall success of the total band program."

•Ken Jernigan, Miles High School

Jernigan has coached football, track & field, and basketball for 25 years and cross-country for 18. His teams have earned seven cross-country state championships, and 140 athletes have competed at the state level, earning 109 medals.

"Many times, success is measured by effort expended," said Jernigan. "Anyone can be successful if they believe in themselves. Success is about 80 percent attitude and 20 percent aptitude, but we must apply the physical in order to engage the mental."

•Charles Loggins, Bridgeport High School

Loggins has sponsored UIL academic competitions for 24 years, with his focus being Science and Computer Science. His students have been regional science team champions for the last five years, and have won numerous district titles. Under Loggins, Bridgeport High School has been State Academic Champions for Conference 3A six out of the past seven years.

"Since our society, in part, is based on the competitive spirit, UIL competition will give all participating students a better understanding of this aspect of our country," said Loggins. "Normally, people who learn to be competitive, hard workers, and team players will become more successful in society."

•Barbara Maddox, Seguin High School

Maddox has sponsored UIL journalism events for 27 years. She has received the Edith Fox King Award, and been named Max R. Haddick Teacher of the Year for outstanding high school teachers in Texas. Over the years, numerous students have achieved regional and state honors and qualified for UIL scholarships under Maddox. She publishes a monthly campus newspaper, and is yearbook staff advisor.

"While every student can achieve and succeed, there are many measures of success beyond winning ribbons, medals, and trophies," said Maddox. "The real measure of success, whether in UIL competition, the classroom, or in life is the individual's dedicated effort to perform at his or her best level."

•Faye Parish, Bridge City High School

Parish has coached UIL math events including number sense, calculator applications, and mathematics for 24 years. In the last five years, her teams have been first in all three events at district, and her Calculator Applications team has placed first in district for the last ten years. Parish has had students compete yearly in math competitions at the state level for over ten years. She hosts two large math & science practice meets annually which draw competitors from all over the state, and uses fund-raisers to subsidize math & science programs in grades 6-12.

"The greatest thing we as teachers can do for our students is to teach them how to learn," said Parish. "Facts may be forgotten, but if we teach them how to learn, we are preparing for the future."

•Dortha Rounsaville, Trenton High School

Rounsaville has sponsored UIL Accounting for fourteen years, along with UIL journalism events for over eight years. Her students have participated in accounting competition at the state level every year since 1992, winning four state championships, and placing in the top three every other year. Under Rounsaville, Trenton High School's yearbook has received the ILPC Award of Distinguished Merit from 1988 to the present.

"It is my desire to help students to realize what they can accomplish through hard work and discipline," said Rounsaville. "'Excelling now for the future' is our school motto. That is also a summation of how we approach our UIL endeavors."

•Emil Jackie Schandua, Fredericksburg High School

Schandua has coached UIL mathematics events since 1972, including slide rule, calculator, and mathematics. In that time he has had one state championship team along with one individual state champion, and twelve state qualifiers. He has also produced four regional championship teams. He developed the AP Calculus curriculum for Fredericksburg High School, and has helped improve TAAS math scores 28 percent in just 9 years.

"I want students to learn to like learning and to enjoy being challenged," said Schandua. "A teacher must be enthusiastic, pleasant, and above all, patient in teaching. He must be willing to model the behavior he expects of his students."

•Jim Streety, San Antonio Madison High School

Streety has coached football for 34 years, 27 of which he has been Athletic Director. His teams have been state semifinalists four times, and made 17 playoff appearances. He has been elected Texas High School Coaches' Association President and is in the THSCA Hall of Honor. Three former players have played in the National Football League, including one Super Bowl Champion.

"We must remain focused on what really matters," said Streety. "We are here for the students, so therefore, we must find a way to motivate them to want to be competitive."

•Patti Wilson, Valley View High School

Wilson has been Director of UIL Academic Contests for the past seven years, and coached computer applications, computer science, accounting, and journalism events. Under Wilson, Valley View has won three consecutive district championships and two consecutive State Academic Championships for Conference 1A. Her students have competed at the state level in computer applications for five of the seven years of the contest, and computer science for the last three years.

"Competition at its best makes us all achieve at higher levels—not just individually, but as a group," said Wilson. "UIL academic competition complements the basic educational goals of our school by teaching students how to learn, and learning is a lifetime process."

STATE OF TEXAS
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

Greetings:

The University Interscholastic League (UIL), with its roots dating back to the beginning of the last century, stands today as this nation's oldest and largest association of its kind.

With an underlying premise of education always being first, UIL builds upon the classroom experience, helping students to hone skills that will be instrumental to their lifelong success.

Competition at this level, whether it is in academic, athletics or music, requires discipline, dedication and focus. I applaud today's competitors. By participating today, you are showing your commitment to success, and I commend your coaches, families and others who have encouraged your progress. As you continue on life's journey, I encourage you to be unrelenting in your quest for excellence. You are our great state's promise of the future.

Mrs. Perry and I send our best wishes for an enjoyable and memorable event.

Sincerely,

Rick Perry
Governor

An Open Letter to the Frantic Fan

Dear Frantic:

If someone were to ask you what represents the greatest peril to the survival of high school sports, you might say specialization, overemphasis, officials, coaches, or administrators. You'd be wrong.

The greatest peril to interscholastic athletes is you, my friend. You, the frantic fan. Specialization and overemphasis can, and are, being curbed; officials have trained, coaches and administrators are guided, but you, Mr. Fan, you answer to no one, and no one, that is until a program has been ruined, students penalized, young images shattered, all because you didn't control yourself.

Perhaps it's not your fault; perhaps you have never been exposed to proper spectator decorum. At any rate, a few definitive guidelines may serve to protect the program, and at the same time, enable you to better enjoy whatever contest you are viewing.

High school athletics were not developed as a sounding board for your immaturity, as a vehicle to "let off steam", rid yourself of frustrations, etc. This may be all right in professional sports, where you pay a premium price to vent your emotions at athletes who are paid a premium salary to put up with your antics. It's different in interscholastic contests. Your ticket entitles you to one thing—the privilege of watching the students of two schools exhibit what they've learned in the athletic classroom.

For the athletic field, court or diamond is merely an extension of the classroom; if it were anything else, it would have little reason to survive.

You would not think of entering a math, history, or English classroom, flask on hip, and berate, often curse and physically abuse the teacher or students. Yet all too frequently you think nothing of harassing players and coaches in their classroom and the field of play.

High School administrators have always given you the benefit of the doubt, Mr. Fan, sometimes because you were a player's parent or an influential citizen. But you're being put on notice that administrators can no longer tolerate your childish, immature behavior, whether you're a recent graduate, a parent, or merely a resident of the community.

If indeed, you are sincerely interested in the continuation of interscholastic athletics, then keep a few basic points in mind:

1. There is no such thing as a "right" to participate in interscholastic athletics. Whereas most academic subjects are mandated by the proper authorities and each student has a "right" to be exposed to them, interscholastic athletics are considered a "privilege" and the player or spectator who avails themselves of it is expected to conduct himself or herself accordingly.
2. Your team does not belong to the community. It belongs to the school, and that school has voluntarily agreed to abide by a certain set of rules, so that all athletes may compete under the same standards. If these rules offend any special groups or individuals to the point where they cannot conduct themselves rationally, then, by all means, these persons should be encouraged to direct their energies elsewhere.
3. Accept the fact that all high school athletes make mistakes. They are not perfect, and never will be. There is compensation, though, as these mistakes make high school athletics exciting and unpredictable.
4. Remember that your coach is a teacher first, and coach second, and anytime you join any misguided souls in trying to reverse this order, you are taking the first step in destroying your program. Remember, no coach, player, or administrator wants to see a program fail. In most cases, failure can be attributed to the merciless pressure of you, the fan, who played little or no part in the building of the program. Small wonder that the high school coaching field has the highest turnover of any coaching level.
5. Make an attempt to learn the rules of the game and then leave officials alone. Much time and effort is spent in the training of these officials. The spectator who constantly criticizes them is almost always ignorant of the rules.
6. Finally, keep in mind that you are a guest of the school, and that while winning is certainly an admirable goal, it is hollow if it comes at the expense of morals, ethics, and just plain common sense.

As the years pass, the score of a contest becomes relatively unimportant, sometimes forgotten. But your conduct remains forever ingrained in the minds of those who were most affected.

Will they be proud or ashamed? The choice is yours!

Major Stockholder in Prep Record Book

Dave Clyde, who pitched for Houston Westchester in the early 1970's was a prep phenomenon. He was once listed in 14 separate categories in the National High School Sports Record Book and his name still permeates the pitching categories. Clyde is listed among the pitching leaders in 10 categories and heads the national listing in five departments. His 842 career strikeouts are 113 ahead of No. 2 Allen Rath of Riverside Highland, IA, and he is the only hurler in prep history to register more than 300 strikeouts in a season. Clyde's true dominance is shown in the number of times he is repeated. His 327 and 251 strikeout totals from 1973 and 1972, respectively, rank first and eighth in the seasonal strikeout category. No less than 43 times did Clyde strike out 10 or more batters in the 61 games he started. Only four times over the last two years of his career did he allow five or more hits.

Baseball Mentor

Coach Bobby Moegle who has coached the Lubbock Monterey baseball program to 1,115 victories, ranks No. 2 on the list of most wins by a high school baseball coach. The 66-year-old Texas mentor has an overall record of 1,115 wins and 266 losses, all at Monterey High School. During that span, he has led 14 teams to the UIL state baseball tournament. His teams won UIL titles in 1972, 74, 81, 96 and were runners-up in 1961, 71, 78, 97, 98.

In 1997, the University Interscholastic League, in conjunction with Host Communications and FOX Sports, created the Texas High School Championships Corporate Partnership Program. Now in its fifth full academic year of existence, this comprehensive program allows prominent regional and national corporations to join the UIL and its member schools in their efforts to strengthen the role of athletics in education. Each Corporate Partner receives exposure in a host of television, print and on-site vehicles throughout the academic/athletic year. Tantamount to the success of the program is the Partners' ability to design and implement consumer promotions aimed at raising public awareness of UIL activities and recognizing outstanding scholar-athletes, coaches, administrators, teams and schools for their achievements both on and off the field.

The members of the 2002-2003 Texas High School Championships Corporate Partnership Program include the Texas Dodge Dealers, Gatorade, Pepsi, Verizon Wireless, State Farm Insurance and 24-Hour Team Sports.
